

New code to ensure that town councillors behave themselves

LYME Regis councillors who were reprimanded by the town clerk and mayor for poor behaviour last year are expected to adopt an updated code of conduct tonight (Wednesday).

The rules include a new section on voluntary sanctions, which can be used to punish any councillor who breaches the code of conduct, meaning the council will be able to suspend its own members for misbehaving. The sanctions are based on those which were applied by the Standards Board before it was abolished in 2012.

The updated code explains that any breach of the code of conduct should be reported to West Dorset District Council's monitoring officer, who will make a decision on the complaint and whether it should be investigated or not. If the district council finds that a breach of conduct has occurred, the case will be referred back to the town council to decide whether any sanction should be imposed.

The sanctions available to the council include censure, apology, training and reprimand. However, members can now voluntarily agree to accept further sanctions outlined in the new code, including restriction of access to the town council premises and council resources for a period of up to six months, partial or full suspension from the council for up to six months, or that the councillor writes a written apology, undertakes training or participates in conciliation.

The updated code and introduction of sanctions comes after one of the most controversial years in the council chamber in recent history. A divide between members and persistent bickering led town clerk John Wright to reprimand members in September, saying he had acted as a "referee" in council meetings and the divide and conflict was distracting from day-to-day business and having an adverse effect on staff morale.

The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, also had to remind members of the code of conduct and standing orders on several occasions, and controversy resulted in a meeting being adjourned, councillors walking out of the chamber, staff making complaints against councillors and abusive behaviour which was later reported to the police.

As in previous codes of conduct, the new rules state that members should "behave in such a way that a reasonable person would regard as respectful" and shall not act in a way which could be regarded as "bullying or intimidatory".

MANY, in and around the Dorchester area, will know of, or have met Margaret Morrissey, OBE.

Editor of the parish magazine, active with the church, a former lay schools inspector and chair of the Poundbury Residents Association, Mrs Morrissey is also often quoted in the national press and regional and national broadcasters for her views on education and parenting.

After years as chair and then spokesperson for National Confederation of Parent Teachers Association she founded her own organisation, Parents Outloud, when she 'retired' several years ago.

And apart from all this Mrs Morrissey is more than active with her seven grandchildren, five of which live locally, and can often be seen being ferried around in a car which would otherwise be far too big for her and retired hotelier and publican, husband Patrick.

■ DO you have a problem saying 'no'?

I agreed to do this interview, so yes! It is one of my problems – I often see something which needs sorting out and end up getting involved.

■ WHEN did you first come to Dorset?

About 1980 when Patrick took over the Worgret Manor Hotel at Wareham. We had met in Weybridge where he was a hotel manager, but he had always wanted to branch out on his own. We later moved to Poole and then came to Dorchester in 1990 at the Junction Hotel. I hated Dorset at first, after living in London, but I soon grew to love it.

■ AND what did you do before starting a family?

I trained as a nurse, did some agency work and also worked for Securicor for while. I was at Queen Charlotte Hospital working on the unit where they pioneered changing a baby's blood, which was very exciting and very cutting edge at the time. Our first child was born at Barts which technically makes her a cockney and gives her the right to drive sheep over Westminster Bridge, although she hasn't tried it yet.

■ HOW did you get involved in educational matters?

The head at the nursery heard me complaining about a zebra crossing and told me I was just the person she needed. Before I knew it I was a school governor and on the PTA...that was the start of it and I never looked back from there. Her name was Mrs Grubb, I won't forget her, my husband says she has a lot to answer for. I used to go along to the Inner London Education Authority and speak up on a number of issues.

■ AND how did your involvement continue in Dorset?

At the Worgret Manor some of the local persuaded me to stand for the town council in Wareham. Later David Jacob's came to Swanage to broadcast "Any Questions" from the Mowlem Theatre. I put in a question about the teachers strike affecting my daughter's education and he made a quip that with a mother like me, she ought to do just fine. The next day the phone didn't stop ringing and myself and a few others called a meeting at the Purbeck School and started the All Dorset Parents Action Group. We used to hold breakfast meetings and ran a number of campaigns which often led to us going to London to lobby MPs and the Minister. Eventually we became the Dorset group of the National Confederation of Parent Teachers Association and I became involved nationally with the organisation as chair and later as spokesperson.

■ AND did you get to know many of the key players nationally?

Yes, but it's a sad indictment that in 30 years or so of meeting with secretaries of state for education there was only one, John MacGregor, who seemed to genuinely care about children, and he only lasted a few months in the post. David Blunkett was very nice and used to phone me quite often until he became a Minister and then all I would get in response were letters addressed to Mrs Morrissey. John Patten even described me as a 'Neanderthal'. Luckily I bit my lip and thought about my response when I was asked by the press what I thought about his comments on me. I also got to know all of the national paper journalists who write about education and many from the TV and radio, some of which still phone me today for my comments.

■ I GUESS you were quite academic at school?

Far from it, but I used to run church services, was the sports captain and was busy with lots of other things. Somehow I think everyone, including me, forgot about my education. There used to be a time when bits of paper weren't that important but if I had my time again I might have made more effort. It certainly true now that you won't even get a job interview for most things without the paper to prove you can pass an exam.

■ HAS the church always played an important part in your life?

Yes, I started going to church as a child. It would be Sunday School in the morning and church in the evening. I'm not even really sure if I'm a believer, but I do believe in insurance.

■ AND apart from the church and Patrick what else is there that fills your time now you are retired?

The parish magazine takes quite a lot of time, there's ten editions a year and the deadlines come around remarkably quickly. I do try and be organised and put items aside as I go along, but the biggest thing in my life is the grandchildren, all seven of them varying in age from four to sixteen. At the weekend I had all five of them and was exhausted when they went home, but I just love it.

Another milestone for skatepark

THE long-awaited skatepark development in Lyme Regis has reached another major milestone.

Following the town council's recent pledge to support the project with up to £150,000, plans for the proposed facility at Charmouth Road car park have taken another significant step forward as the council goes out to tender.

Lyme Regis Town Council previously invited expressions of interest for the project and has now gone out to tender for the design and build contract.

Councillor Lucy Campbell, who has led the council's ongoing campaign for a skatepark, said: "After such a fantastic result with the council committing £150,000 last year, we have moved quite quickly in the last month to progress the project and we are now at a stage of going out to formal tender.

"It is great to see the council pulling together with such a majority voting in favour of the funding. The project has become much more of a reality now we have got the budget for it.

"Without the money we would still be several years away, but this is now a project that is likely to be complete in the very near future.

"Within the tender documents we have set some realistic but firm time schedules that the successful contractor must adhere to so that this project isn't held up and the contractor would have to meet a series of holding a special meeting of the council to help move the process along."

The project has also been boosted by the efforts of the community-led Skatepark Fundraising Committee, which raised more than £11,000 in a year through auctions, duck races, quiz nights, an open-air disco and a comedy hypnotist night.

Committee secretary and lead fundraiser Cheryl Reynolds is delighted that the scheme is moving quickly ahead.

deadlines to make sure it happens."

The deadline for tender bids is March 5th and an extraordinary full council meeting has been called on Wednesday, March 26th at 6.30pm for councillors to consider the tenders and chose a preferred contractor.

Councillor Campbell added: "We are really keen that the project maintains momentum, which is why we are

She said: "I think it's wonderful that this project is finally coming to fruition after almost 50 years. The skatepark is good for the town, good for the council and even better for the kids.

"The committee is pleased that our efforts will help provide the youth of this town with this much-anticipated facility."

The next fundraising event is a quiz night is at the Nag's Head on Wednesday, March 26th, 7.30pm for an 8pm start. Entry is £2 per person, with teams of up to six people, prizes for the winners and a raffle.

This will be followed on Sunday, April 6th with a duck race at 12noon from Windsor Terrace. Entry is £1 per duck.

New code states councillors should be courteous, efficient and impartial

Changes to the code, expected to be agreed at tonight's Strategy & Policy Committee meeting, also include the adoption of the 10 general principles of life - selflessness, honesty/integrity, objectivity, accountability, openness, leadership, personal judgement, respect for others, duty to uphold the law and stewardship.

New rules include the following:

- He/she shall promote and support high standards of conduct and not act in a way which could reasonably be regarded as bringing their office or the council into disrepute

- He/she shall not attempt to compromise the impartiality of those who work for, or on behalf of the council

- He/she shall be as open as possible about their decisions and actions and the decision and actions of the council, having regard to any relevant advice from the town clerk as responsible finance officer and proper officer, and they must give reasons for all decision as required by the law

- He/she shall act in the best interests of the council and have regard to any potential conflict

- Mutual respect between employees and elected members is essential to good local government

- Members should always remember their responsibilities to the community they serve and should conduct themselves in a courteous, efficient and impartial manner to all groups and individuals within that community.

The updated code also clarifies guidelines regarding councillors' pecuniary interests and dispensations, equality and diversity, corruption, use of financial resources, disclosure of information, confidentiality and data protection, and appointments and other employment matters.

Councillors are also expected tonight to approve updated standing orders, financial regulations, terms of reference and scheme of delegation, and protocol for member/officer relations.

This new protocol states: "One of the key issues to be addressed by the protocol is the question of member/officer relations. Mutual trust and respect should be the key aim; any delays between members and officers should observe standards of courtesy and neither party should seek to take unfair advantage of their position, and do anything which compromise, or is likely to compromise, the impartiality of officers or undermines them."

It adds that members and officers should avoid making personal attacks or derogatory comments about one another and, in particular, should avoid undermining respect about one another in meeting, public forums and through social media.

■ CRIME IN LYME

- A SILVER Vauxhall Zafira was stolen from the Haye Lane area of Lyme Regis on Tuesday, January 28th.

Anyone with information should contact police on 101 quoting crime reference number 3872.

- OIL was stolen from a tank in Whitchurch Canon-icorum, near Charmouth, sometime between Tuesday 14th and Friday, January 31st.

Police are advising all those who do not have an alarm on their tank to contact their local safer neighbourhood team for information on how to protect their oil from thieves.

- ON Saturday, February 1st a man managed to defraud a shop in Broad Street, Lyme Regis, by confusing the cashier whilst making a purchase and making off with approximately £30 handed over in change for the purchase.

- A 51-year-old woman was dealt with by Community Resolution for a public order offence in Lyme Regis on Saturday, February 1st.

Rough seas spark lifeboat call-outs

LYME Regis lifeboat crew were alerted on Friday evening after reports that a windsurfer was in difficulties in high winds and rough seas, just outside the town's harbour.

Two lifeboat crew members, Elliott Herbert and Murray Saunders, called coastguards when they grew concerned for the windsurfer.

Mr Saunders said: "He was a very long way off shore in very heavy conditions, and two other people on surf boards appeared worried.

"I had already heard of one surf boarder who had lost his rigging in the conditions, so we thought it best to take no chances."

The lifeboat was about to be launched when it was decided that the windsurfer, who was now close to shore, was in no apparent danger.

The crew were launched again on Sunday after reports that a canoeist had been thrown overboard off Church Cliff, to the east of the town.

Matthew O'Rourke, 43, from Burton Bradstock, was thrown out of his surf-ski - a thin canoe - when he was hit by a wave.

He managed to swim half a mile to the shore, and his canoe was retrieved by the volunteer lifeboat crew.

Mr O'Rourke said: "It was quite a wave and my boat overturned and drifted away. I had to swim for shore, but I am very grateful to the lifeboat crew for turning out and for retrieving my boat. I didn't want to have to think about buying another one!"

High tides hit the Cobb...

... and pebbles
hit Charmouth

■ PARTICULARLY high tides, strong winds and rain battered the coast again this week. The Cobb harbour in Lyme Regis was completely flooded on Monday morning during high tide. Work to dredge the harbour and replenish the beach was halted for the high tides, while many spectators braved the weather to get a closer look and take photos of the impressive waves jumping the high wall. Most people kept a safe distance from the rough seas, watching from outside the lifeboat station or on Monmouth Beach, while one dog walker took a chance along the Cobb (pictured top left). In Charmouth, the tides washed pebbles from the beach onto the car park outside the Heritage Coast Centre (pictured bottom left by Peter Rand). The centre has already suffered damage during recent storms, including damage to the roof.

Professional musician joins B Sharp

PROFESSIONAL musician John K. Miles has been working with Lyme Regis-based music group B Sharp on their latest project, working with young people from across West Dorset and East Devon.

Saxophonist John has been working with B Sharp as it launches two exciting, new groups - a choir and instrumental ensemble - made up of young musicians and vocalists from the local area.

This new project is bringing together young musicians from across West Dorset and East Devon, for a unique opportunity to write, perform and record music collaboratively and to work with some of the region's most talented and celebrated local artists, such as singer-songwriter Jess Upton, whose voice is described as "as versatile as it is beautiful", the charismatic Jacques Verhaeren and Grace Gillan from favourite local band Papa La Gal, and acoustic solo artist Angelina Westdorp. There will also be guest artists brought in from out of the area.

The regular sessions are being held on Sundays during school term time in Lyme Regis and Bridport, and are for all levels of experience. John says the project is about making the most of what we've got and "the vital ingredient needed to join is a commitment and passion for music".

A team of young music leaders are working alongside with John, building skills and providing music-based mentoring as a professional band. They include Jacques Verhaeren (vocals and bass), Chloe Stratta (vocals), and Matt Hartnell (percussion and vocals). The band have been running taster sessions at the Woodroffe School in Lyme as well as at the Sir John Colfox School in Beaminster, where 80 children from Years 3 to 6 all joined in.

Fran Williams, director of B Sharp, said: "We are really lucky to have John come back to work with us again. John brings an energy and experience to our area, he has a magical ability to get the best out of everyone."

To join the ensembles contact Fran Williams by emailing franwilliams@bsharp.uk.com or visit the website www.bsharp.uk.com for full details, programme and information about how to book a place at a session. ## New fishing by-laws will help protect Lyme Bay

TWO new by-laws have been introduced to protect high risk and sensitive marine habitats in Dorset, Hampshire and the Isle of Wight, including Lyme Bay.

The new by-laws, introduced by the Southern Inshore Fisheries and Conservation Authority (IFCA), will protect reef and seagrass habitats in European Marine Sites (EMS) from potentially damaging mobile fishing gear, such as dredges and trawls, and bait gathering practices.

In Dorset, the EMS areas lie within Lyme Bay, Studland to Portland, Chesil and the Fleet and Poole Harbour. An area of 670km-squared or 416 miles of seabed is now protected.

Enforcement of these by-laws means that up to 25 per cent of the total Southern IFCA district area will be permanently closed to high impact, damaging mobile fishing methods.

Dorset Wildlife Trust has welcomed the announcement. Marine conservation officer Emma Rance said: "These by-laws represent a great step forward in conservation.

Rocky reef habitats support slow-growing sponges and corals. Eelgrass meadows provide a nursery for juvenile commercial fish species and sea horses. Both habitats are vulnerable to irreversible damage when dredged or trawled.

"The by-laws will prevent any further habitat loss and, in doing so, maintain the health, productivity and economic value of the marine environment for fishermen and conservationists alike."

Many of the fishing methods used to catch the 40 different commercial species in Dorset are static in nature and have a low impact on seabed habitats. These methods include rod and line, pots, traps and gill nets. The low impact traditional fishery is recommended through Dorset Wildlife Trust's Great Dorset Seafood campaign, which supports the sale of seafood caught using environmentally sensitive methods.

County considers council tax increase

DORSET County Council is considering an increase of 1.99 per cent in council tax for the next financial year. At a Cabinet meeting on Monday it was recommended that the council consider the increase for the authority's part of council tax for the 2014/15 year.

The increase, the first in four years, will be discussed and decided upon at the full council meeting on February 13th.

This increase will equate to a rise of 44 pence per week for a band D property, a total of £22.88 a year.

Councillor Robert Gould, cabinet member for corporate resources, introduced the report: "Although we are still waiting for the government's confirmation of the referendum limits, this increase should be below that value.

"I am confident that the basis for the budget is sound and that it will support the council for the substantial challenges that we face in the future.

"This is a modest increase to help us change the way we serve our residents."

The cabinet also recommended that the budget strategy is considered by the full council in February. This plan lays out the savings that need to be made in the next three financial years, totalling £43.3million.

Councillor Spencer Flower, leader of the county council, said: "There are a lot of unknowns in the next few years, but we do know that we need to change the way we provide services to the residents of Dorset.

"By transforming rather than cutting services and with good financial management we will meet the challenges head on."

HAVING recently visited South West Coaches, I was met with a warm welcome at a privately owned, family run company. Upon entering reception I learnt that they run a number of excellent value holidays to a variety of different places, as well as many short breaks and day trips.

The business is owned by Mr and Mrs Alan Graham, who operate from three locations: Lufton Business Park in Yeovil, Southgate Road in Wincanton and Tradecroft Industrial Estate on the Isle of Portland.

In 1987 Mr & Mrs Graham went into business buying a third of a company called A. G. Hulbert and Son. A.G. Hulbert and Son operated from Victoria Road, Yeovil and successfully ran a fleet of around 14 minibuses which ranged from 8 seats to 24 seats. The vehicles were used to transport children and adults to various schools in and around Yeovil, they also specialised in PHAB transportation (Physically Handicapped Able Bodied). Mr Graham's passion for the bus industry was soon realised and he grew the company over a period of 13 years adding day excursions & holidays to his portfolio. The fleet also grew at which point an opportunity came his way...

In 2000 a local company called Wakes Services came on the market. This company was based in Wincanton which posed a different set of challenges. Knowing that the operation in Yeovil was becoming larger Mr Graham decided to merge A.G. Hulbert & Son with Wakes Services thus creating South West Coaches Ltd. The company was now providing minibus transport, school transport, public transport and private hire work alongside day excursions and holiday tours but this time on a much larger scale as the company was now in ownership of a fleet of large buses and coaches taking the total fleet size to in excess of 50 vehicles. The Victoria Road site was quickly sold and a yard on Lufton Business Park was purchased. Over the following years Mr & Mrs Graham became the sole owners of South West Coaches Ltd.

South West Coaches went from strength to strength and in 2007 Safeway Services came on the market and a purchase agreement was made. In the same year Yeovil Town saw a major boost to its infrastructure with four brand new Optare Solo buses, this was soon followed by a new Optare Versa for the 81 South Petherton service and an additional new vehicle to the No 1 Shepton Mallet service. The most recent purchase came in 2009 when they entered Dorset and purchased an operation on the Isle of Portland, Sureline was now part of the South West Coaches group.

They are currently one of the largest privately owned coach operators in the South West of England, employing over 120 members of staff, with a fleet of 98 vehicles. They continue to operate Bus Services throughout Somerset, Wiltshire and Dorset with more than 629,000 journeys every year. The School transport operation helps to get in excess of 2,500 students to and from School and College every day, and the day excursion programme offers more than 150 days out throughout the year, whilst the 2014 Tour programme has over 20 holidays & short breaks to choose from.

THEATRE REVIEW

By Francesca Evans

Between Courses Theatre Group
'The Lost World'
Marine Theatre

HAVING now attended their last three shows, Lyme Regis' own Between Courses theatre group productions have quickly become my favourite to review in the local area.

And their latest serving of "The Lost World", held at the Marine Theatre last week to raise funds for new chairs for the auditorium, was no disappointment, having the audience in stitches throughout and, of course, anything that comes with a ploughman's and pudding supper pleases me!

Devised and directed by theatre supporter Jenny Wiles, the comedy was very loosely based on Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's book of the same name.

The small cast of just nine, including Richard Doney who took on his usual role of compere for the evening, started the show by anticipating which story Jenny had chosen for them to star in this year, choosing roles (although there were "no real parts for women") and rehearsing.

Soon the story began, with experienced local performer Brian Rattenbury taking on the lead role of Professor Challenger, supported by Jeremy Smith as adventurer Lord Roxton, Anne King as celebrated scientist Dr Summerlee (determined that, despite the original story, ladies can go to the Amazon too!) and Fred Humphrey as desperate journalist Edward Malone, who wanted to prove to sweetheart Gladys, played by Nicole Parkinson-Ward, that he could be adventurous and dangerous.

The four set off on a rather quick trip to the Amazon in search of mysterious dinosaurs and are helped and hindered throughout their journey by the remaining members of cast, taking on a variety of smaller roles. Pete Ward was the hopeless jungle taxi driver and Jake Patrick the hunky "local interest", who had the audience literally jumping from their seats with a quick fitness session!

The pair reappeared along with Nicole Parkinson-Ward later in the show to interrupt the script as the "West Dorset Politically Correct Department", with the cast seamlessly switching in and out of character, and humorous interjections from compere Richard.

Miffed at having no part left to play, queen of the local stage Sylvia Lee promised at the beginning of the show she would be back... and she definitely was, still managing to steal the show with her perfectly-timed, comical offerings of tea and cake.

A host of cheesy jokes, local jibes and cleverly-made dinosaur cardboard cut-outs added to the entertainment, with the audience helping to provide the sound effects.

Following tradition, lead Brian Rattenbury even managed to squeeze in a solo whilst canoeing up the Amazon River and the song was repeated at the end of the show for the whole audience to join in.

The show, which was presented over three nights, raised an estimated £2,000 for the Marine Theatre.

■ PUBLISHED AUTHORS: Black Dog Writing Group tutor Joanna Smith and contributors to the fourth edition of their short stories book at the launch night on Friday

Writing group launches fourth book

THE Black Dog Writing Group, based in Uplyme, has published its fourth book of short stories.

The group, which regularly meets at the Old Black Dog bed and breakfast, releases a book every year, with stories in the latest edition written by 15 contributors, mostly from Lyme Regis and Uplyme, many of whom have only been writing fiction for a year.

The book was launched at a reception for all members of the group at the Old Black Dog on Friday evening. Copies are now available from the Old Black Dog, Uplyme Village Stores, Serendip Bookshop and Amid Giants and Idols in Silver Street, Lyme Regis.

A new course for anyone interested in creative writing starts on April 25th and will meet on Friday mornings at the Old Black Dog from 10.30am to 12.15pm, led by screenwriter Joanna Smith.

The group, founded in 2008, welcomes writers of all ages and all abilities, mostly beginners, and helps writers to grow in confidence and share their work with others.

Local author announces next release

LYME Regis author David Ruffle will take a step in a new direction with his latest novel, due to be realised on March 3rd.

David is well-known locally and nationally for his trilogy of Sherlock Holmes novels set in Lyme Regis, and two other books featuring Holmes, including the charming children's book "Sherlock Holmes and the Missing Snowman" illustrated by Rikey Austin of Alice's Bear Shop.

His last book, "The Abyss - A Journey with Jack The Ripper" saw him move away from the Sherlock theme and the latest in his titles, named "A Twist of Lyme", is even more of a departure.

Set in contemporary times, the new release will be David's first move away from the Victorian and Edwardian eras and it is a comic novel - comedy being another field that David has not strayed into before.

"A Twist of Lyme" features a family of four, the Hamiltons - Michael, Judy and their daughters, Katy and Annabelle - who move to Lyme Regis from Greater London. In flashbacks, readers will learn a little of their previous life, how Michael and Judy met, their early lives and how they fare in Lyme Regis.

The book will be published by MX Publishing and will be available locally at Serendip Bookshop, Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre and Uplyme Stores. The book will also available from Amazon, all book-selling websites and as an e-book.

Amnesty group to screen documentary

THE Oscar-nominated film "The Act of Killing" will be screened on Monday, February 17th at the Town Mill Malthouse in Lyme Regis.

The documentary film is about the Indonesian death squads of 1965, which killed between 500,000 and 2.5million people suspected of communist or socialist sympathies.

Director Joshua Oppenheimer tried to talk to survivors of the massacres, but it turned out to be much easier to talk to their persecutors. Far from disputing their crimes, these men considered themselves national heroes.

The film enlists the ageing, real-life mass killers to re-enact their killing sprees in a sequence of surreal movie parodies.

The screening of the film, which is being sponsored by the Lyme Regis group of Amnesty International, will be shown at 7pm and is free for all to attend.

Lyme Society all set for 2014 programme

THE Lyme Regis Society held their annual coffee morning at the Alexandra Hotel last week.

The coffee morning is the organisation's only event of the year without a guest speaker and is a chance for members to socialise before the programme of events for the coming year gets underway, and a chance for new members to sign up.

The aim of the society is to safeguard the natural and architectural beauty of Lyme Regis and promote its culture and heritage. Upcoming talks include "A Balanced View of Organic Farming" by Will Best of Manor Farm, Godmanstone, on Tuesday, February 25th; "Monique Bellingham - Lyme's Canadienne" by Keith Shaw on Tuesday, March 25th; the annual general meeting and a talk named "High Cliff House and the Lister Family" by Richard Bull of Lyme Regis Museum on Tuesday, April 29th.

All talks are held at the Woodmead Halls starting at 2.30pm, costing £1.50 including refreshments.

Derek's gift for festive lights

THE Lyme Regis Christmas Lights Fund for this year has been boosted by a "significant" donation from local resident Derek Hallett.

Mr Hallett presented a cheque to the Christmas Lights Committee at a recent dinner for a group of his friends at the Hunters Lodge Inn.

The cheque was received by committee member Pat Stamp, who thanked Mr Hallett for his generosity.

Twinnings plan trip to France

FOLLOWING the official twinning of Lyme Regis and Barfleur in Normandy, France, last year, a number of social and fundraising events have been planned for 2014, including a trip across the Channel in June.

The Lyme Regis/Barfleur Twinning Association's annual general meeting will be held on Thursday, March 6th at 7pm in the Guildhall. Other events planned for the coming year include a French-theme lunch in the spring, a barbecue on Bastille Day (July 14th) and a French film night in the autumn. These are intended to give existing and new members the opportunity to meet up and socialise, as well as raising funds to complement membership subscriptions.

The association has been invited to visit Barfleur over the weekend of June 21st and 22nd to celebrate the 70th anniversary of the liberation of the fishing port. More details on the trip will be available at the annual general meeting.

An unusual Valentine's date

THOSE looking for something different to do this Valentine's Day need look no further, as Uplyme will be hosting a curry night and ferret racing on Friday, February 14th.

Organised as a fundraiser by the Uplyme and Lyme Regis Horticultural Society, doors to the village hall will open at 7pm with ferrets from Kingston Maurward College taking part in five races from 7.30pm. Betting costs £1 with cash prizes of £25, £10 and £5 available.

Spice 'n' Rice Curries will be serving up dinner, with meat and vegetarian options available, between races, as well as tea, coffee and soft drinks. Guests can also bring their own alcoholic beverages.

Entry for the evening is £8.50 including curry. Tickets are available from Uplyme Post Office or call Jenny Harding on 01297 444034 or Pam Corbin on 01297 442378. Tickets must be booked in advance.

Town Mill plans for future at packed meeting

IT was standing room only in the Town Mill's new community room last Tuesday for a public meeting to discuss the future of the facility.

Town Mill volunteers and tenants met for the meeting, titled "The Town Mill 2014-Plans & Discussion". It was a chance to listen to ideas from the audience and to share information on the new website, business plan and the proposed heritage centre at the mill.

The meeting also gave newly-elected chairman of the Town Mill trustees, Gary Willis, the opportunity to meet those involved with the mill, and to make him aware of what's important to them and what they themselves would like to see the Town Mill achieve in the future.

Mr Willis (pictured right) outlined two key challenges - firstly, energising existing volunteers and growing the number of volunteers who support the Town Mill and secondly, getting the finances back on an even keel.

In a spirit of inclusiveness, he appealed directly to the volunteers: "The Town Mill needs as much time as you and I can spare, not only to keep it open and to entertain visitors, but also to provide ideas and energy to drive development and change.

"I realise your time is a precious commodity and I only ask you to commit as much as you are comfortable with. There are hundreds of ways you can help and lots of small bite size tasks."

For the website discussion, led by Suzy Galino, the walls were covered with print outs of the proposed new site as well as displays on a screen. The new website should be in place by the end of next month.

Philip George presented the Town Mill's new business plan, setting out a clear route for the future. Among a wide range of proposals, he talked about trustees taking on responsibilities for specific areas, such as marketing, milling or fundraising, about renewing and strengthening educational links and the need for active marketing to let people know where the Town Mill is and what it's doing. He stressed the importance of open communications and partnering with tenants.

Finally, Diana Forrest gave an update on plans for fundraising for the proposed heritage centre, which will replace the shop in the spring as an exciting, interactive, historical and educational point of entrance to the Town Mill.

The meeting was held in the new community room, formerly the upper gallery. It can comfortably accommodate about 60 people and is available for hire to the general public for workshops and meetings.

Interesting opportunities exist at the Town Mill for volunteer millers, guides and gardeners as well as helping with fundraising or event organising. For further details, contact Cara on 01297 443579 or email info@townmill.org.uk

NEW curator at the Town Mill, Philip Clayton (pictured above), is encouraging all members of the Town Mill Arts Guild to hold "profile" exhibitions to get their work in the public eye.

The first profile exhibition is currently on display in the Courtyard Gallery at the mill, with work by stonebalancer Adrian Gray, self-taught landscape artist Duncan Harris, ceramic artist Linda Bristow, painter Rob Crisp and painter and photographer Stephen Collins, together with sculptures by Lois Wakeman and Toni West in the retail area.

This collection of work runs until February 10th and is open daily from 11am to 4pm with free admission.

Meanwhile, a new collection of work from the guild, entitled "The Walkers Exhibition", will open at the Town Mill Malthouse next weekend to complement the Lyme Regis Walking Festival and will run until March 3rd.

This will include works in a variety of media including photography.

Treetops welcomes in year of the horse

■ TREETOPS residential care home in Lyme Regis welcomed in the Chinese New Year with special activities on Friday. Celebrations were led by staff Sylvia Choy (pictured above) who showed residents how to paint their own Chinese symbols, meaning "blessing" to create New Year decorations, and demonstrated how to make different Chinese teas, which residents were able to taste for themselves. She also told residents about the tradition of giving gifts of money to loved ones in red envelopes for New Year.

Creative Solutions to getting noticed because attention is the sign of the times.

AS SUCCESS stories go, the rise of Creative Solutions is up there with the very best of them – with a 2,600% increase in business in a decade that has seen the Axminster-based experts in attention-getting soar to a catalogue of 13,000 clients.

BUSINESS PROFILE by Geoff Baker

'It amazes me to think of the number of businesses that we've helped in 10 years,' says print manager Ben Whittington, 'back then we had a portfolio of 500 clients, mainly churches and smaller local businesses.'

'And now...now we've got blue chip companies like Barclaycard, Pearson Education, Red Bull, Network Rail, the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital, Bafta and Cambridge University among the customers whom we have helped to make happy.'

Creative Solutions are in the attention business; that key to the success of any company – key because in today's multiple-option marketplace catching the eye of a customer is what counts. As the old adage says, out of sight is out of mind – but because Creative Solutions are also the specialists in large format printing, your business banners could put you massively in the mind of your market.

'That's what it all boils down to in business; getting noticed, catching the eye,' says Ben. 'You can have the best product or service on the planet, but if nobody's noticing you, you won't sell it.'

Attention to detail

And this of course is why successful local businesses from River Cottage, Axminster Tools and Hix's Restaurants to Palmer's Brewery, Groves Nursery, Total Plumbing and Dorset Tea all turned to Creative Solutions when they needed to get noticed.

'If you'll excuse the pun, attention is the sign of the times,' says Ben.

'But more than that, it's a case of our attention to your detail. No matter how big or small the job our team can make you stand out. Because we use the latest technology and machines we can print onto pretty much anything you want, and as big as you want.'

A look through their website – www.creative-solutions-direct.co.uk – reveals a treasure trove of the endless ways to best promote yourself. Every conceivable option of all kinds of signage is expertly catered for – from their large format machines accommodating business interiors and exteriors, shop fronts, exhibition stands, banners, indoor/outdoor displays and advertising boards to business cards and stationary, pavement signs, leaflets, flyers, brochures – even graphics for your van or truck.

You name it, they can print for it – from design and production to installation in a one-stop shop.

In fact, so many sign systems and services are available that it is somewhat surprising that there's only eight of these young, vibrant minds behind the business which has become one of the UK's leading print and display specialists, and something of a feather in the cap of West Country enterprise.

'We're a rapidly-growing company but we like to keep the team tight because the familiar face, the personal touch gives us a first-name relationship with our customers. We're all very hands-on because that makes it easier to brain-storm solutions, which we do a lot,' said Ben.

Over in Lyme Regis the community has known the friendly bright sparks of Creative Solutions for many years. Ben and his operations manager brother Jedd, sales manager Chris Lenton and production manager Matt Coalter all live locally and became popular in Lyme long before their success caused the need for the company to recently expand to their purpose-built premises on Axminster's Millwey Rise Trading Estate.

'Now that we've got a new, bigger base we are able to offer an even larger selection of products and services at the same, or even better, prices and quality,' said Ben.

'There are all sorts of new ways with printing these days – for instance, we can print your wallpaper for your offices, or even for your home. Bring us your own design, or our designer will work with you, and we can print your own personalised wallpaper for any room in your house. We could even print you a new view to go in your garden.'

'As another instance, vehicle livery – what you say on your van – is an advertising opportunity that many businesses have yet to exploit to its fullest potential. We can help make your vehicle the eye-catcher on the road. We recently designed an especially attention-grabbing look for Lyme fishmonger Simon Bennett's Wet Fish Shop truck and now it's standing out in the traffic on his deliveries all over London.'

As Mr Bennett testifies, it's the 'quick, quality, keen and clever' thoroughness of Creative Solutions that makes you stand out in the crowd, and in business these days getting noticed is priority No 1.

'It's all about significance,' says Ben, 'when we sign off on a job your customers will sign on.'

For advice on how Creative Solutions can help signpost your business to new directions, go to www.creative-solutions-direct.co.uk and sign up for a new customer account that will entitle you to 10% off* your first order when you use the special code VF01.

*Offer runs until the end of March 2014.

"That's what it all boils down to in business; getting noticed, catching the eye, you can have the best product or service on the planet, but if nobody's noticing you, you won't sell it."

THE Reverend Jane Skinner of St Michael's Parish Church, Lyme Regis, writes: "Snowdrops are a joy! They are popping up in groups through the grass, crouching under hedges, bursting through in unexpected places. It may be some weeks since you saw your first snowdrop of the year, a sign of growth and new life through all the rain, wind and grey clouds.

"As a child, I realised that there were single and double flowers but I had no idea that there were dozens of different snowdrops that have been identified. However, there is only one Snowdrop Service happening in Lyme Regis and it's on February 11th at 11am in St Michael's Parish Church.

"Each year, this service is hosted in one of the town's churches, an event which is multiplied in several towns and communities throughout Dorset. Working with the Weldmar Hospicecare Trust, the service of remembrance and thanksgiving is offered for people to come and remember loved friends and relatives who have died. It may have been recently or many years ago, the time and space is there to come and give thanks, pray, reflect.

"The Reverend Sally Burroughs, the chaplain at the hospice, will be joining us and speaking. The 'Snowdrop Memorial Book' will have been updated with names since last February. Just as snowdrops are delicate, early signs of hope, our hope is that this gathering will be a comfort and a source of hope for all who come.

"Snowdrop bulbs have been planted - in Lyme Regis the garden is in the town cemetery - to provide a lasting memorial. Your loved one may or may not have died in the care of the trust or from cancer, the hope is that the snowdrops may be an encouragement and the services are for all.

"If anyone would like to support the planting of snowdrops or would like the name of the person you wish to be remembered to be entered in a dedicated memorial book, please visit www.weld-hospice.org.uk. A donation of £10 is asked for to cover costs. Any names given now will appear in the memorial book for 2015. If you know someone who is unaware of the service on the 11th but might find it helpful, please mention it to them.

"Enjoy the snowdrops as they appear."

New priest welcomed to Uplyme

AXMOUTH church was full to capacity on Thursday for the licensing of the Reverend Kate Woolven as Priest in Charge of the Uplyme and Axmouth Mission Community.

The Bishop of Crediton, the Right Reverend Nick McKinnel, led the service and the Archdeacon of Exeter, the Venerable Christopher Fitcher also took part.

For the past three and a half years, Kate has worked as an assistant priest in Kilminster, Shute, Stockland, Dalwood and Yacombe, known as the Five Alive Mission Community. A coach full of former parishioners travelled to support her and she was also joined by clergy and readers from local churches.

In welcoming Kate to her new ministry, Bishop Nick also paid tribute to her predecessors, Gavin Tyte and Jeremy White, both of whom were present. In his sermon, the Bishop emphasised that parish ministry was very much a shared enterprise between clergy and people, all using their God-given gifts together.

There was a strong musical element to the service, with contributions from the combined Axmouth Community Choir, Uplyme Gospel Singers and the Uplyme Festival Choir, all directed by Adrian Pearson.

A reception followed in Axmouth Village Hall, giving an opportunity to meet Kate and her husband Jonathan.

Uplyme and Axmouth Curate, the Reverend Shuna George, commented: "It was a memorable service and a fitting way to welcome Kate and Jonathan. We look forward with great excitement to her ministry among us, as she seeks to communicate the love of Christ to all."

A new way to learn maths

News from
LymeNet

PERHAPS your recollection of maths lessons at school is like mine, endless pages of problems to solve and no idea what their purpose was.

At LymeNet we teach many people who had difficulty with school maths only to find that, later in life, they were at a disadvantage in day-to-day situations and wish they were better at it. Maybe you still struggle with working out fractions, decimals, percentages, scales, area, volume, charts, graphs, averages or probabilities.

To many people, maths sounds so dull when put like that, but you still need to be able to work out how much carpet you need, which supermarket pack is the best value for money, or whether you are getting a good deal on your holiday currency... or maybe you just want to help your child with homework.

So many people who are perfectly capable of learning have decided they are "no good at maths". A common story that we hear is that, as a child, people asked their schoolteacher for help only to be told they'd already been over it a couple of times and they couldn't spend any longer on it.

We do it differently. We assess each person's skills, we tailor our teaching for each person, all of our maths is based on real life situations. We teach in small groups of mixed ages and abilities, but we still teach to GCSE equivalent level. You can even start the course when you like, and we offer some evening tuition if this suits you better.

If you have a learning difficulty such as dyslexia or dyscalculia, we can find ways to still get the learning and qualification that can help you.

And for most people the courses are free of charge, and just down the road in Lyme Regis.

To have an informal chat about your options ring Dawn on 01297 444570.

Town band not charging for D-Day anniversary concert

■ AS chairman of Lyme Regis Town Band I am writing to you with regard to the Band's participation in the D-Day Commemoration this June.

We were delighted to be invited to take part and are looking forward to performing one of our popular open air concerts on Marine Parade on Sunday, June 8th.

I note in last week's edition of your paper (January 29th) that it was indicated that the band will be charging an appearance fee but this is not the case. During initial discussions with the organisers, they indicated that they might be in a position to make the band a donation of an unspecified amount.

Although the band welcomes donations from any source, our enthusiasm to participate is unconditional and remains so. Somewhere along the line there has been a misunderstanding on this matter and I hope that I have clarified the situation.

Lyme Regis Town Band is always pleased to support local events and we are committed to doing what we can for the town whenever possible.

Thank you for allowing me this opportunity to put the record straight.

*Paul Snowball,
Chairman, Lyme Regis Town Band*

Now awaiting next major landslide...

■ HAVING lived in and around Lyme Regis for over 40 years it does not surprise me to read about the latest landslips on the western side of town (View From Lyme Regis, January 29th).

I now await the next big one on the eastern side (the last major one happened a few years ago).

I remember very clearly mention being made of a domino effect taking place once stabilisation of the main seafront was done, around Monmouth Beach and the Crow's Nest. Stabilisation of the eastern flank is due to be completed soon.

We have been informed that a major housing development is to be built at Woodberry Down close to the Spittles area and also very near the main road out of Lyme! Objectors have flagged up drainage problems on this site and just across on the other side of Colway Lane is another earmarked development with water drainage issues.

We know people have to be housed but at what cost environmentally and financially in a tiny town like Lyme?

Muriel Arber and many eminent geologists have stated that Lyme sits on old slippages and that the nearest place where it is stable is at Penn Cross. I rest my case!

Betty Holmes, Lyme Regis

Not all NHS experiences are good

■ IN response to Philip Evans comments about the NHS (Lyme Matters, View From Lyme Regis, January 8th):

I am very pleased that Mr Evans had a positive experience in an NHS hospital. Very sadly other people are not so fortunate.

One in 10 people suffer avoidable harm. Older people with multiple problems are particularly vulnerable in hospital. One very basic problem can be not giving enough fluid and food; lack of cleanliness and inadequate levels of staff are other fundamental problems.

It is very good to celebrate good care, but it is also essential to look at what is being provided realistically, so that the necessary improvements can be made.

Numerous reports have been published in only the last year highlighting the problems in the NHS including the Robert Francis report. This report detailed the long-term appalling treatment of people at the Mid Staffordshire Hospital. It was recognised that the behaviours were not exclusive to Stafford.

A total of 290 recommendations were made for improvements to apply across the NHS. A number of hospitals have been placed into special measures because they have been found seriously wanting.

In only the last few weeks we have heard in the news of the tragic cases of children and babies who have died at a Bristol hospital. The Care Quality Commission reports on Colchester Hospital, describing staff being bullied and cancer and other waiting lists manipulated, putting lives at risk.

On January 24th 2014 the Public Accounts Committee published a report expressing deep concern at the way the NHS had spent vast amounts of money on confidentiality clauses with severance payments to silence people who had raised concerns about patient care. On January 31st another report stated that many maternity hospitals run at a loss, care is worse at weekends and there should be 2,300 more midwives for the current birth rate. On January 29th The Times reported that three managers had received almost £1million in redundancy payments, despite still working in the NHS.

The NHS has a major long-term problem with bullying and intimidating staff. People who raise concerns about patient care and staff welfare are particular targets. The figure in the last staff survey showed 24 per cent of staff considered they had been bullied in the previous year by managers or other colleagues.

Serious action needs to be taken in a number of areas including patient safety, governance and general conduct towards staff.

Mr Evans wrote that the NHS was the "envy of the world". The mythical, "perfect", olympic ceremony version of the NHS might be. The real NHS - definitely not.

The Story of St.Valentine

IN 270 A.D., marriage had been outlawed by the emperor of Rome, Claudius II. Claudius issued this decree because he thought that married men made bad soldiers since they were reluctant to be torn away from their families in the case of war. Claudius had also outlawed Christianity in this time period because he wished to be praised as the one supreme god, the Emperor of Rome. Valentine was the bishop of Interamna during this period of oppression. Valentine thought that the decrees of Rome were wrong. He believed that people should be free to love God and to marry. Valentine invited the young couples of the area to come to him. When they came, Valentine secretly performed services of matrimony and united the couples.

Valentine was eventually caught and was brought before the emperor. The emperor saw that Valentine had conviction and drive that was unsurpassed among his men.

Claudius tried and tried to persuade Valentine to leave Christianity, serve the Roman empire and the Roman gods. In exchange, Claudius would pardon him and make him one of his allies. St. Valentine held to his faith and did not renounce Christ. Because of this, the emperor sentenced him to a three-part execution. First, Valentine would be beaten, then stoned, and then finally, decapitated. Valentine died on February 14th, 270 A.D.

While in prison, waiting for his sentence to be carried out, Valentine fell in love with the jailer's daughter, the blind Asterius. During the course of Valentine's prison stay, a miracle occurred and Asterius regained her sight. Valentine sent her a final farewell note. He signed his last note, "From Your Valentine." Even today, this message remains as the motto for our Valentine's Day celebrations.

Symondsbury Kitchen

THE most recent transformation on Symondsbury Estate is the new café – Symondsbury Kitchen.

The Symondsbury Kitchen offers a selection of seasonal locally sourced and home cooked food, and the ethos is to offer delicious food in the most stunning and relaxing surroundings.

Seating up to 30 people inside, and the same amount outside in the warmer months, it's the ideal spot for lunch. There is also a relaxing corner, where you can "chill out" on the sofas and soak up the warm and cosy ambience whilst enjoying afternoon tea with cake.

Currently open from Thursday through to Sunday for Breakfast, Lunch and afternoon teas, delicious home-made cakes, coffee, hot chocolate, tea, cold drinks, and daily special lunches. All are welcome including dogs!

Friday, February 14th will see the Kitchen opening in the evening for the first time – offering a Valentine's Meal. The guest chef is Nick Holt of Dorset Fine Dining – two and three courses are available, and bookings are essential.

Late last year, Symondsbury Estate transformed a somewhat disheveled Milking Shed into Symondsbury Kitchen. Its now hard to believe that this beautiful café used to house around 30 cows and two milkmaids! Sympathetic renovations have transformed this building whilst still managing to retain many of the original features and character.

We have also created an 8km XC mountain bike and walking trail, which starts and finishes at Manor Yard, making Symondsbury Kitchen the perfect place to gather after a winter walk or bike ride through the stunning countryside.

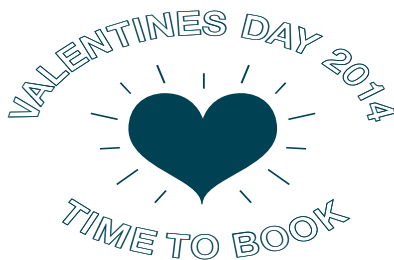

Tea parties for children can be arranged, and the venue is available for private hire both at lunchtimes and evenings.

There is a selection of different venues throughout the Estate that are available for private hire, and the Estate welcome any local community groups or clubs that are looking for a meeting place. All catering can be arranged for you, whatever the occasion.

Everyone at the Symondsbury Kitchen pride themselves on being flexible, so if you have a specific request please contact them and they will be happy to discuss your requirements and create a tailor made package to suit your needs.

They look forward to welcoming you to Symondsbury Kitchen!

The code that says you must behave!

TONIGHT town councillors in Lyme Regis will vote on a new code of conduct. Not before time.

Clearly a huge amount of work has gone in from the town clerk's office to make sure every possible angle has been covered.

The point is, however, will they adhere to it?

The year 2013 will go down as one to forget for Lyme Regis Town Council. A year in which the Mayor Sally Holman and town clerk John Wright had to publicly reprimand councillors for their unacceptable behaviour in the council chamber.

Lyme Matters

by Philip Evans

I cannot remember that ever happening before.

In fact, if Lyme Regis Town Council had been a school it would have been put into special measures.

Some of the behaviour - particularly the lack of respect for those with differing opinions - was shameful.

Democracy is about opinions and there have always been disagreements and grudges in the Lyme council chamber. But there has never been such a lack of respect between the warring factions.

But that is behind us. After tonight's meeting, the councillors will know exactly where they stand - what they can do and what they can't.

Now if there is a case to answer when a councillor steps out of line, and West Dorset District Council decides a breach has occurred, the matter will be referred back to the town council for action. The council will then be able to impose sanctions limited to censure, an apology, training and a reprimand.

Further voluntary sanctions can be imposed which includes suspending a member who is deemed to be in breach of the code for up to six months.

By voluntary I assume the offending councillor will have to agree to the suspension.

In an ideal world, of course, none of this will be necessary because all councillors will engage in robust debate but accept the majority decision of members and move on.

This current council has 14 months to put their "annus horribilis" behind them and pledge to act in the manner in which the electorate expects and deserves.

There have been a few spats between councillors and council staff this past year. Again, nothing new but in the past these have always been handled in house without becoming a public spectacle. A new protocol will be put in place tonight to eliminate a repeat of such scenes.

There is little doubt that the new codes will be adopted by the council and they can then go about their business of running Lyme Regis - hopefully in a new spirit of co-operation.

Or am I being naive?

◆ NEXT week this column will be handed over to Chris Boothroyd, who last year wrote two brilliantly pieces for the View from Lyme Regis.

Once a month Chris will be offering "Another View" and has been given a free reign over content.

You will not be disappointed.

■ I THINK I wrote my first story on the possibility of Lyme Regis getting a skatepark in the early 1970s after local sports enthusiast Royston Davies suggested to the old Borough Council that the Anning Road playing field would make an ideal location.

Here we are 40 years later and at last tenders are being sought for the construction of a skatepark in the Charmouth Road car park.

The project is going ahead after countless sites were rejected and much debate and argument in the council chamber. It is being made possible by the generosity of Lyme Regis Town Council who have committed £150,000 towards the cost and the energetic Cheryl Reynolds, who has fronted a fundraising campaign which has brought in £11,000 in the last year. There's still the planning process to go through but a skatepark in Lyme Regis is now virtually a certainty. Hurrah!

New skateparks are also being built in neighbouring towns. Axminster has launched an appeal to raise £160,000 to replace the existing facility at Cloakham Lawn and a £90,000 project is underway in Honiton.

Axminster is not expecting to take 40 years to deliver their skatepark. With support from East Devon District Council and the appropriate grant making bodies, they say it will be open in 18 months with approval but no financial input from Axminster Town Council.

It was James Cagney who entertained the GIs

LAST week I wrote about the excellent programme of events, led by the town council and fronted by Royal British Legion stalwart David Manners to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the D-Day landings.

I referred to the relationship that was established between the people of Lyme Regis and the US 16th Infantry Regiment based in the town in the run-up to the invasion, many of whom lost their lives.

I also mentioned the big names appearing at the Marine Theatre these days, including comedians Jo Brand and Alan Carr, and commented that they would be following in the footsteps of some big names, making particular reference to Hollywood star Mickey Rooney entertaining the GIs at the Marine Theatre when it was the Drill Hall.

But of course it wasn't Mickey Rooney - it was James Cagney - and a number of you wasted no time in letting me know. My apologies for such an elementary error.

Among the first to do so was local historian Ken Gollop whose legion of fans will soon be queuing up at the Woodmead Halls for another installment of his wonderful "Under Shady Tree" talks on Sunday, March 2nd when he will be throwing the spotlight on the Cobb Gate area.

Jim Larcombe Architectural Consultant

APPROACHING his third year in business, Jim Larcombe, owner of J Larcombe Architectural Consultant (JLAC), has enjoyed great success.

Jim has lived in Lyme Regis all his life and knows the area extremely well. He prides himself on producing great architecture at a cost effective price.

Over the past three years, JLAC have taken on a variety of projects ranging from small kitchen extensions, to outline planning for a new Primary School through to Barn conversion complexes. JLAC thrives on projects that involve turning 1960s /70s properties into something more contemporary, and styling properties worthy of being in the 21st century. The majority of these building follow the perimeter of our local towns and majority of the time have some fantastic views. JLAC makes the most of these views that will not only improve the appearance of the building, but also add value to the property.

Jim works very closely with local businesses to make sure that a good work relationship can be maintained throughout any type of project.

With a lot of second home owners looking to bring a touch of modern style to some of the local properties, Jim offers a Site Supervision service in which he will work closely with all the contractors involved in the project, and have a good working relationship with the client. This service has proved to be very successful and stress free for the clients involved.

Jim also works very closely with the local estate agents in order to help prospective buyers find a property that may require some work to achieve what they are looking for.

With Jim working on his own, each client will get that personal touch to each project. JLAC is looking forward to taking on more interesting and exciting projects in the year to come.

To discuss your project, call Jim on 07824 861909, 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday, or email info@jimlarcombe.co.uk anytime.

Malabar Trading

ALLEVIATE the gloom of February by a visit to Malabar Trading where the colours of the textiles cannot fail to cheer. There are new beautiful woollen blankets and throws in the shop and handwoven kilim cushion covers in a variety of colours and designs. Other new items are arriving this week, amongst them are some Turkish kilims and Afghan kilim runners.

During the month of February there will be many shipments arriving including nickel and glass lamps and Japanese ceramics and later in the month a variety of blockprinted textiles from India.

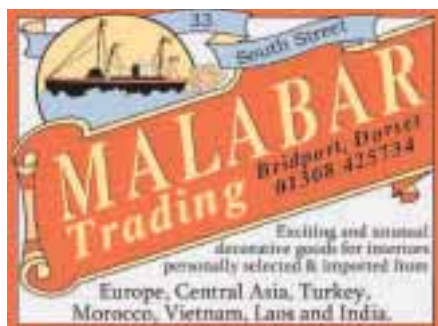

As ever there is a large selection of quilts, bedspreads, tablecloths and nightwear.

Most of the goods in the shop are partly chosen for the reason that they are either hand-printed, as in the blockprints, hand-embroidered, as in the suzans and chikan curtains, hand-woven as in the dhurries and kilims, or handmade, as in the terracotta baking dishes and the marquetry frames. All of these items are also chosen for their quality and usefulness.

TRIUMPHANT HOMETOWN RETURN FOR BRISTOL-BASED PARTY MERCHANTS

Papa Le Gal at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis. Saturday, January 25th. Review by Ross Packman

ON A frigid January evening, the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis was host to a dose of undiluted sunshine courtesy of Papa Le Gal, the town's biggest musical exports, returning home after a long absence.

Following an extended hiatus in 2013 and a relocation to the buzzing musical hub of Bristol, this event served as both Papa Le Gal's first hometown show of the year, and a statement of intent for 2014. Before the main event, and easing the crowd into the evening, Ella Squirrel offered up a selection of sultry acoustic numbers, her diminutive stature belying an impressive vocal maturity.

Papa Le Gal have built up a reputation for their showmanship as well as their sunshine-filled songs, and this evening was no exception. For one night only, the Marine Theatre was transformed into a South American jungle, the perfect setting for their idiosyncratic blend of samba, white funk and Afro and Latin rhythms.

The event saw the band break away from a much-loved catalogue of covers, relying instead on a full set of original material. New tracks 'Sunrise' and 'Unconditional Love' displayed a more measured approach to song writing, while old favourites 'Voodoo' and 'Sidewinder' irresistibly drew the crowd to the dance floor. Another new song, 'Madame Abeline', built to a storming Saxophone-led crescendo, aptly displaying the band's effortless multi-instrumentalism, before Papa finished the night with 'Bombay Satire' and a thunderous accompaniment courtesy of the B Sharp youth music group.

With the night's festivities caught on camera by a Chestnut Productions film crew, and a sold-out show just days into January, 2014 looks set to be a big year for Papa Le Gal, a band well deserving of BBC 6 Music's assertion that they are 'one of the hottest bands around'.

Under My Skin

Dance at the cutting edge of surgery

IF YOU have ever had a surgical procedure or been caught up in the tension of an operation in a TV drama then an extraordinary and inspiring new work from Sadhana Dance will give you a new understanding of the skill of surgical teams.

Surgery may seem an obscure and unlikely inspiration for dance, but in Under My Skin, performed at Dorchester's Corn Exchange on Wednesday, February 12th, three performers take us to the heart of the operating theatre, where intricate detail, perfect timing and precisely controlled exchanges are as important as they are in dance.

Working hand in hand with eminent surgeon Professor Roger Kneebone from Imperial College London, choreographer Subathra Subramaniam undertook extensive research with internationally renowned scientists to prepare the piece.

The result is a work that combines classical Indian and contemporary western dance and demonstrates how art and science complement each other.

Rosalind Conlon, Dance Producer from Activate Performing Arts, saw the piece when it was first created and says: "The precision and care that surgeons take to prepare and undertake surgery requires a precise and careful set of movements. We have all seen TV shows where Doctors scrub-up in preparation for the theatre. This piece is an excellent demonstration of how this process can be transformed into choreographed movement - the piece is really beautiful and moving. In the pre-show I also learnt how to stitch (simulated) skin - fascinating!"

Prior to the performance, there is an opportunity to gain a further insight into the complex world of surgery as Prof Kneebone invites members of the audience to join him and nurse Sharon Weldon to participate in a simulated 'operation' beginning at 6.45pm.

Following the performance there will be a Café Scientifique debate with Quentin Cooper (former presenter of BBC Radio 4's Material World).

Under My Skin is at 8pm on Wednesday, February 12th at Dorchester's Corn Exchange, with pre-show simulated operation starting at 6.45pm.

Tickets £10/ £8 or £5 NHS Staff are available from the Dorchester Arts Centre on 01305 266926 or Tourist Information Office 01305 267992 or online from www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

Australian stand-up to headline Comedy Cafe

AWARD winning Australian comic Yianni Agisilaou will headline the first Comedy Café night of the year this Friday (February 7th).

A regular on the world comedy circuit Yianni was the talk of last year's Edinburgh Fringe with his 'Think Big' show which saw him close the festival at the city's biggest venue supported by Ed Byrne.

The comedy café nights are returning this year bigger and better than ever after teaming up with Mirth Control, the UK's leading booker of independent comedy clubs.

The partnership means the café will be able to attract even more big names to add to the growing list of acts who have gone on to become TV regulars.

Completing the line up at next Friday's gig will be the relentlessly middle class Glaswegian Neil McFarlane, new acts Archie Maddocks and Tim O'Connor as well as regular host, and Bridport based comedian, Tom Glover.

As well as introducing the acts, as ever Tom will be sharing his latest material with the home crowd.

The BAC Comedy Cafe will be at 8pm on Friday, February 7th. Tickets are £7 adults/£5 concessions and available from the arts centre box office on 01308 424204.

Archaeology Evening

AN Archaeology evening will be held this Friday, February 7th at Dorset County Museum. This is primarily a members' event but everyone is welcome to attend, especially potential new members.

The event will commence with a book launch and will be followed by three short illustrated talks. David Carter will discuss the recent works at Sandsfoot Castle in Weymouth; Clare Randall will talk about the Cowleaze Cemeteries, and Jon Murden, Director of the Museum, will talk about the newly conserved Langton Herring Iron Age Mirror now displayed in the Museum's archaeology gallery.

The launch of a brand new book, Paleolithic Archaeology at Broom in the Axe Valley by Dr Rob Hosfield and Dr Chris Green of Reading University, will commence at 6.30pm and copies of the book will be available to buy. The co-editors will give a brief presentation on the book before signing copies for purchase.

All are welcome to attend this event at Dorset County Museum. The book launch will take place at 6.30pm to be followed by the three lectures at 7.30pm. Entry is free: a donation of £3.00 is encouraged to cover costs.

Nationally renowned actor Chris Harris brings comedy one man show to the Marine Theatre

A GUARANTEED evening of "mad jests and merry jigs", the Marine Theatre presents actor, writer and renowned pantomime dame, Chris Harris in 'Kemp's Jig', a hilarious and internationally toured one man show, on Saturday February 8th.

Chris Harris has an impressively broad acting career, previously appearing with the RSC, Bristol Old Vic and his highly acclaimed nine year collaboration with the Theatre Royal (Bristol) and their successful pantomime productions in which he starred as the dame.

Chris's performance in 'Kemp's Jig' is said to be, 'a masterpiece of comic acting' (Allen Sadler, The Guardian) and promises a fun-a distance of 125 miles, in nine days. He later recorded this journey in his book "Kemp's Nine Daies Wonder" on which the show is based and the tale is told.

Chris Harris performs 'Kemp's Jig' at the Marine Theatre this Saturday (February 8th) at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £11 and £9 for concessions, and are available by calling 01297 442138 or online at www.marinetheatre.com

CHRIS Harris in Kemp's Jig

"A wonderfully sustained piece of clowning and story-telling."

Ned Chaillet, The Times

packed evening for all.

Following successful productions worldwide including the National Theatre, the Swan Theatre (Stratford Upon Avon) and a broadcast for BBC radio 4, 'Kemp's Jig' tells the story of one man's Morris dance from London to Norwich. Will Kemp, a famous Elizabethan actor and a shareholder with Shakespeare in the Company of the Lord Chamberlain's Men, performed the remarkable feat of dancing from London to Norwich,

Ladies' Night with Adonis Cabaret

THE Adonis Cabaret Show was created in Vienna, Austria, whilst on tour in 1996 after the realisation that a lot of male strip shows took themselves far too seriously and forgot that the performers are on stage to please and entertain the audience, not themselves. Top performer entrepreneur Tristan formulated a unique night of mayhem with the help of some of the top drag acts and male strippers in cities around the world and the show soon evolved into regular UK Saturday nights on the south coast popular as hen night entertainment as well as for girls out for a fun night. Since then the Adonis show has gone from strength to strength, touring overseas as well as around the UK.

Following the success of the Adonis Cabaret clubs nationwide comes The Adonis Cabaret Ladies Night Show. We are the UK's Top Hen and Stag Night company and run shows in Blackpool, London, Brighton, Newcastle, Leeds and Bournemouth, so you can be assured of the finest quality performers at ALL times with the best service! The Adonis Cabaret male strippers and Drag Queens have been taking the UK by storm, bringing together some of the best entertainers in the business for a fantastic night of music, comedy and erotica with the emphasis on cabaret and fun. Adonis Cabaret is a fantastic concept in girls' night entertainment!

An international drag comedian hosts the night and will have you in hysterics before the funniest, hunkiest, most televised male strippers in the business titillate you with some amazing routines!

The Show is 'Full Monty' so be prepared!

The Adonis Cabaret Show comes to Bridport's Electric Palace on Friday, February 21st. Doors open 7pm, with the show starting at 8pm. Advance tickets are £14 plus booking fee from Bridport TIC: 01308 424901 and online at seetickets.com, or £16 on the door.

Geology Lecture at Dorset County Museum

A TALK at Dorset County Museum by Dr Gareth Dyke of Southampton University aims to answer an ongoing question amongst geologists: What is a Bird?

The evolution of wings in dinosaurs, and the eventual emergence of birds, was undoubtedly a momentous step in the progression of vertebrate life on our planet. Using fossil evidence, Dr Dyke will unfold the history of birds and their dinosaur predecessors through a study of their anatomical diversity as well as lifestyles and habitats. He will discuss recent fossil discoveries which show key stages in the refinement of parachuting, gliding and - maybe - flapping flight.

Dr Dyke will also explain how birds managed to survive the massive extinctions at the end of the Cretaceous period which killed every remaining non-avian dinosaur.

The talk takes place at Dorset County Museum at 6.30pm on Wednesday, February 12th.

All are welcome to this talk - entry is free and a donation of £3 is encouraged to cover costs. Doors open at 6.30pm, the talk will commence at 7pm.

Triple Bill for Opening Night of From Page to Screen

A TRIPLE bill of speakers will open this year's From Page To Screen, the UK's only film festival dedicated to the adaptation of books into films, to be held in Bridport, West Dorset, on April 2nd-6th.

The opening night will feature a special screening for members only of the movie Frank, which received rave reviews at last month's Sundance Film Festival, and was directed by Lenny Abrahamson and co-written by Jon Ronson, From Page to Screen's Guest Curator. Frank is an offbeat comedy, starring Michael Fassbender, Maggie Gyllenhaal and Domhnall Gleeson, about a wannabe musician who finds himself out of his depth when he joins a maverick rock band led by the enigmatic Frank - a musical genius who hides himself inside a large fake head. Written by Ronson, a journalist, documentary filmmaker and author of nonfiction books including The Men Who Stare at Goats, and Peter Straughan, a writer and director best known for Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy, Frank is a fictional story based on the memoir by Ronson, who played the keyboards in Frank Sidebottom's band.

CURATOR | Jon Ronson will curate From Page To Screen

Ronson will be on stage after the screening, 'in conversation' with Straughan and Abrahamson. Earlier in the day you can see Ronson's new one-man show Frank: My Story and get the true story behind the movie.

Polly Gifford, Director of Bridport Arts Centre, said: "We are thrilled to have such an amazing triple bill of speakers for our opening night and we will be rolling out the red carpet in Bridport."

Frank isn't scheduled for release in the UK until May but festival audiences can see it first at this special event. The screening is only open to festival members but tickets include day membership.

Last month it was confirmed that author Nick Hornby will be attending this year's From Page to Screen festival, ahead of a screening of A Long Way Down, his fourth novel to be made into a film. Ronson and Straughan will also be 'in conversation' before a showing of The Men Who Stare at Goats, the 2009 British comedy war film starring George Clooney. The screenplay was written by Straughan and based on Ronson's book.

A full programme of Ronson's film choices will be announced later this month. Bridport Arts Centre in collaboration with the Electric Palace cinema will show a wide range of films over five days at the two venues. Most screenings will feature a talk by authors or filmmakers, giving audiences the chance to go beneath the surface of their favourite films and discover more about the film-making process.

Ronson's other books include international bestsellers The Psychopath Test and Them: Adventures with Extremists. His latest book is a collection of real-life adventure stories - Lost at Sea: The Jon Ronson Mysteries. Jon writes for the Guardian, he has his own Radio 4 series Jon Ronson On... and his many Channel 4 documentaries include Secret Rulers of the World and Stanley Kubrick's Boxes.

From Page To Screen was founded in 2009 by Bridport Arts Centre, inspired by the Bridport Prize - one of the UK's longest running and respected literary prizes.

You can also become a 'Friend of the Festival' again this year. By showing your support financially you can help sustain the festival as a keynote arts event in the Bridport calendar. Some extra benefits include advance notification of events and early bird booking, complimentary invite to a special 'Friends' event and free tickets for the festival raffle.

IN CONVERSATION | Nick Hornby, author of Fever Pitch and High Fidelity, will be 'conversation' with curator Jon Ronson

A chance to play with UK's top fiddle player Dave Swarbrick

A RARE chance is available to get up close and personal with hugely influential folk icon Dave Swarbrick and in addition, enjoy an all girl trio Said the Maiden who are making waves with their selection of trad arrangements and close harmonies, accompanied with fiddle, guitar and at times, wonderfully acapella.

To some, the name Dave Swarbrick is synonymous with innovation and he is indeed credited with heralding the 'Second Folk Revival' while in seminal Folk/Rock band Fairport Convention, who had their heyday in the 70s. To others he is the fiddler's yard stick to which they aspire. Here is your chance to hear not only the mesmerizing fiddle of 'Swarb', but also anecdotes and insights from his extraordinary life and ask any questions which are on the tip of your tongue.

Not only Swarb, but his support act are a delightful English Folk Trio 'Said the Maiden' who have been played by Mike Harding on his Folk show, and who are charming audiences across the country with their tight harmonies, playful style and blended unison singing. A perfect balance for this evening of entertainment.

Opportunity for local musicians to perform on the night

IN KEEPING with his role as Patron of the Folstock Arts Foundation, who are rapidly establishing themselves as champions of emerging acoustic and folk talent together with Electric Palace's new musicians collective 'Transformer', Swarb is inviting a local solo act or duo to perform three songs at the start of the evening. The act can be of any age or any experience and Dave Swarbrick will personally choose which act is selected. Please note that there is not a fee for the performance and the act should live within 50

The Electric Palace has already received some fantastic entries so if you want to check out the competition or just see some of the fantastic local folk talent we have in Bridport go to the Facebook page.

The Palace is encouraging music students to come along to this special gig as well as to the Charlie Jones from Goldfrapp event, which will be at the Electric Palace on February 10th, by offering student discounts.

Valentines Night Special: 'Realms' in Bridport

A romantic musical soiree awaits at the Bridport Arts Centre Jazz Café

REALMS is an intriguing collaboration of singer Rosalie Genay and pianist Rebecca Nash, two musicians who share a fascination and fondness for the songs of contemporary lyrical legends Tom Waits and Leonard Cohen. Together they have embarked on an ambitious journey to arrange some of their idols' tracks for this new project, consciously including less well known songs in amongst the more popular ones and setting them into imaginative new arrangements.

The song covers might lend themselves well to a more jazz-inspired backing but Genay is careful not to lose anything in the transition. By offering a different perspective on Waits and Cohen's music, and by including their own original tunes in their repertoire as well, Genay and Nash provide ample opportunities for enjoyment. This tour takes them outside their London base and around the UK to promote the release of their debut album in February 2014, supported by Jazz Services and Arts Council England. The album was partially funded through a very successful crowd-funding project via PledgeMusic, reaching its funding target within 20 days.

Rosalie Genay is a Dutch born, London based vocalist and songwriter and has been working professionally in London since moving there in 2004 after graduating from the Australian Institute of Music. She has worked with many leading musicians and vocalists on the scene and has appeared in various venues in Australia, Europe and the UK; the Bb Jazz Club - Berlin, Chet's Jazz Bar - Amsterdam, The Spice of Life, The Archduke, Pizza Express, Arcola and Soho Theatre, Oliver's Jazz Bar - London amongst others.

Rebecca Nash graduated from the Trinity College of Music Masters Course in 2012. She plays in a number of projects; her own trio, the folk-jazz fusion ensemble Wiza-hikken, Entropi, Paradox Ensemble, the Potter Ensemble, and Benin City. She has played at festivals including Glastonbury, Meltedown Festival, Isle of Wight Jazz Festival, Llangollen Jazz Festival, as well as many jazz clubs nationwide such as the Vortex, the Southbank Centre, and the Spice of Life. Rebecca has shared the stage with artists such as Tina May, Ed Jones, Anita Wardell, Steve Waterman, Christine Tobin, Phil Robson, Mark Lockheart, Henry Lowther and Alex Garnett amongst others.

Realms will perform at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, February 14th at 8pm. Tickets cost £10, and are available by calling 01308 424204 or online at www.bridport-arts.com

Outstanding detached bungalow which lies in Hinton St. George

JEREMY Smith, Manager of Symonds & Sampson estate agents in Beaminster, is delighted to have been chosen to market an outstanding detached bungalow which lies in Hinton St. George, one of the areas most popular villages. Jeremy commented 'such opportunities rarely arise and we advise early viewing of this property which has been modernised to an extremely high standard'. The stylish accommodation has been enhanced with the introduction of partial open limestone flooring, oak doors and a bespoke oak porch. The large kitchen/dining room consists of Maple effect units with granite work surfaces, whilst also a very useful utility and cloakroom and good size sitting room. There are four bedrooms of which one is en-suite and a further family bathroom. The property also benefits from Upvc double glazing and oil central heating. The bungalow is approached over a sweeping tarmac driveway which provides extensive parking and leads to a double garage. The property is set in grounds of approx. 0.43 of an acre. Symonds & Sampson are quoting an asking price of £475,000 for the freehold and serious offer will be considered. Please contact either Jeremy, Erica, Kate or Jane on 01308 863100 to arrange a viewing.

Lanehouse Vauxhall advocates record-breaking Astra

For motorists in Dorset looking for a new car that packs a powerful punch, Lanehouse Vauxhall is on hand with a record-breaking suggestion!

The local Vauxhall retailer, with sites in Bridport and Weymouth, is inviting customers to give their consideration to the manufacturer's stylish Astra, after the model flew full pelt into the World and UK record books last month.

The model was acknowledged by motor-sport's governing bodies after its attempt to set or break 18 World and UK Speed Endurance Records was confirmed as successful. This achievement showcases the vehicle's exceptional reliability and places the model as an ideal choice for those who appreciate a powerful performance.

Record-breaker

In the autumn of last year, Vauxhall attempted two sets of speed endurance records: 12 in the FIA's* 1600-2000cc forced-induction diesel production car class, and a further six in the MSA's* 1500-2000cc forced-induction diesel production car class.

The lead Astra 2.0 CDTi 165PS in the challenge covered a total of over 3,000 miles in 24 hours, over 1,500 laps of a tortuous banked circuit at an average of just over 125mph, only stopping for fuel and a single, cautionary change of tyres.

All 18 records were achieved, with key records such as the World 1-hour, 6-hour, and 12-hour broken conclusively, and the long-standing UK 24-hour, which was smashed by 25mph.

Dominic Avery, Company Director at Lanehouse Vauxhall, comments: "This is a fantastic achievement displayed by the Vauxhall Astra.

▲ Vauxhall's record-breaking Astra sets or breaks 18 World and UK Speed Endurance Records, making it the ideal choice for drivers who appreciate power, performance and reliability

We always knew it was an impressive model, but now we have official proof!

"It offers qualities that many motorists are looking for: exceptional reliability, a good performance and economy blend, and long-distance comfort. As such, we would like to invite all those in the area looking for a new car to stop by our dealership, book a test drive and discover more about this record-breaking model from the Vauxhall line-up."

Innovatively affordable

To make taking to the road in a brand new Vauxhall Astra even more appealing, customers at Lanehouse Vauxhall could take advantage of the manufacturer's innovative Flexible Finance scheme.

With up to five years' 0% APR Representative, no minimum deposit and payment terms that can vary between 24 to 60 months, customers can tailor their finance and drive away with monthly payments to suit their individual budget. What's more, customers could also benefit from a Vauxhall deposit contribution of up to £2,000.

This means that customers at the retailer could take to the wheel in an Astra 5-door Excite 1.4i 16v VVT (100ps) for just £179 per month, over 60 months, with a £4,915 customer deposit.

In addition, Vauxhall offers all customers peace of mind long after their purchase, thanks to its industry-leading Lifetime Warranty. Available to the first owner of all new Vauxhall cars, the warranty is valid for the lifetime of the vehicle up to a maximum of 100,000 miles.

To find out more about the Vauxhall Astra, to book a test drive and to find your nearest Lanehouse Vauxhall site please go online to www.lanehousegroup.co.uk.

All-New Renault Traffic Due This Summer

An all-new Renault Traffic, a model that has notched up sales of more than 1.6 million units in the course of a buoyant career spanning more than 34 years, is due to be released this summer.

The illustration released today by the French manufacturer provides a pre-view glimpse of several of the forthcoming vehicle's salient features. "Its lines embody Renault's new brand identity. My aim was to achieve a dynamic, assertive stance without sacrificing either the robustness or user-friendliness customers expect of their van," notes the designer of New Renault Traffic, Kihyun Jung.

With the third-generation Traffic, Renault has focused on meeting the needs of business customers more closely than ever by providing them with 'Innovation for a Better Life'. The appeal of the van produced by Europe's number one LCV manufacturer since 1998 is boosted by revised styling, new technologies and a range of new engines that benefit from Renault's expertise in the world of Formula 1 racing. Further information about the all-new Renault Traffic will be available very soon.

Referee collapses at Combe Perry Street title hopes slide on Saints' slope

ROUND-UP – Saturday, February 1st
TOMMY TABBERER CUP Round One
SOUTH PETHERTON RES 1 ILMINSTER COLTS 3
ILMINSTER TOWN Colts booked a quarter-final at Crewkerne Rangers and gave new player-manager Kenny Timson a winning start to his time in the hot seat.

Tom Callow tapped-in to put the visitors ahead only for Dave Batstone to level for Pethy.

The Blues regained the lead in bizarre fashion when keeper Joe Draper's long downfield punt was headed into his own net from the edge of the box by an under pressure home defender.

Timson himself sealed the win with a fine 25-yard free-kick.

QUARTER-FINAL DRAW:

Chard Utd v Waytown Hounds

Crewkerne Res v Dowlish or Luso-Chard
Combe A v Thorncombe or Charmouth.

BILL BAILEY CUP Round One

WINSHAM UTD RES 1 CHARD RANGERS 3
AFTER a goal less first-half, strikes from Jordan Capper (2), his first for the club, and Scott Marshall saw Chard Rangers bring an end to their six-game losing run.

Corey Sutherland grabbed the 88th minute consolation for the hosts.

QUARTER-FINAL DRAW:

Barrington Res v Lyme Regis Bantams
Chard Rangers v Chard Utd Res
Drimpton v Shepton Beauchamp Res
Hawkhurst v Iminster A or Millway Res

REG EGLON CUP Round One

FORTON RANGERS RES 1 THORNCOMBE RES 2
IN-FORM Forton Rangers Reserves were brought crashing down to earth and out of the Egdon cup as Thorncombe Reserves recorded an excellent away win.

Liam Male and Matt Shattock netted for the Thorns with the latter's strike coming two minutes from time. Justin James scored his 12th goal of the season for Forton

MERRIOTT DYNAMOS 10 HINTON 0

MERRIOTT Dynamos racked up a double figure score for the third time this season as they put their landlords Hinton to the sword.

Grant Symes (2), Adam Swinnerton (2), Kieran Adams (2), Barry Hayne, Lewis Fisher, Dan Edmund and Hung Dang all tucked-in at the goal feast for the Dynamos who also recorded their fifth clean sheet on the spin.

MISTERTON RESERVES 2 KINGSBURY EPISCOPI 3
LUKE Monk's hat-trick saw Kingsbury progress to the quarter-finals of the Reg Egdon Cup at Unity Lane last Saturday writes Stuart Broom.

Both sides missed penalties in a game spoilt by the strong wind that blew almost diagonally across the ground.

Misterton started the brighter kicking against the elements, and Adam Manley went close on two minutes when he drove Ricky Smith's lay-back wide of the far post from an angle.

It took Kingsbury 18 minutes to register their first effort on goal, Giles McGilvary firing a 25-yard free-kick wide of the far post.

The wind and a bumpy pitch didn't help, as both sides found it difficult to string passes together or create chances and it wasn't until the half hour mark before another worthy effort on goal was recorded when Joe Dejeebet was just wide with a 20-yard free-kick.

But a minute later Kingsbury went ahead when Lewis Bowditch's determination saw the ball fall eventually to the unmarked Monk who had the easy task of rolling the ball home from eight yards.

Two minutes later Misterton had the opportunity to level when visiting keeper Carl Sterman brought down Smith as they chased down a through ball.

However, not only was skipper Gerry Hill's spot-kick too close to Sterman who beat the ball away, but he injured himself taking it and had to be substituted.

With the wind behind them after the break Misterton got an equaliser on 53 minutes; Neil Hawkins managing to poke the ball past the Kingsbury stopper.

Five minutes later Nigel Jeffrey's run and cross down the left saw Monk beat keeper Ash O'Brien to the ball and flick it high into the net with the outside of his boot to restore the visitors lead.

They had the chance to increase that advantage from the penalty spot on 80 minutes when O'Brien brought down Jeffrey, but like Misterton, their captain Giles McGilvary missed, his attempt hitting the post.

However, two minutes later they did find the net to seal a well-earned victory when Jeffrey again fed Monk who pounced to slot the ball just inside O'Brien's left hand post.

Although Hawkins fired home a fine 30-yard shot just inside the far post a minute from time, it was too little too late for Misterton.

QUARTER-FINAL DRAW

Uplyme Res v Chard Rangers Res
Kingsbury Episcopi v Farway Utd Res
Merriott Dynamos v Combe B
Crewkerne Rangers Res v Thorncombe Res

PREMIER

COMBE RES 1 PERRY STREET 1

PERRY Street's title aspirations took another blow as they were held to a draw on the slope at Slades Cross.

A 30-yard free-kick from Jake Board saw the Mothers hold a slender lead at the turnaround.

But the Saints, boosted by the inclusion of a sprinkling of eligible first teamers, grabbed a second-half leveller through Steve Every.

The point sees the Mothers move to within three points of current leaders Crewkerne but have played one game more.

DIVISION THREE

BARRINGTON RES 0 DRIMPTON 0

TWO of the Division Three promotion contenders slugged it out for 0-0 draw up at Shellway Lane.

DIVISION FOUR

COMBE B 5 UPLYPE RESERVES 1

(Abandoned 70 minutes)

THERE was drama of the unwanted kind as referee Rex Selwood was taken ill at Slades Cross on Saturday.

Referee Selwood, one of the PSDL's more senior officials, felt unwell midway through the second-half and subsequently collapsed as he was about to relinquish the whistle.

Mr Selwood was treated at the ground before being taken off to Taunton's Murgrove Park Hospital. View Sports understands he is now recovering and wish him well.

The game itself was dominated by a fierce wind blowing up the slope.

Both teams struggled to come to terms with the conditions in the opening quarter.

The Saints finally broke the deadlock in the 24th minute when Mike Usher launched a 25-yarder that drifted on the wind and sailed high into Uplyme keeper Joe Cleere's top-corner.

The visitors had their moments, with wide players Niall Fifer and Harry Robson both looking lively, and Combe gloveman Trevor Priddle made a couple of decent stops.

But the hosts gradually began to carve open the better opportunities and a foul in the box on the half-hour allowed Usher to bag his second from the penalty spot.

The killer third goal arrived just three minutes before the break when Ryan Peacock slotted a low drive past Cleere.

Aided by the elements in the second-half Uplyme attempted to take the game to the Saints.

Left-back Liam Aldworth went close with a 25-yard free-kick that Priddle did well to tip over the bar. The resulting corner was then scrambled off the line.

At the other end substitute Steve Chadwick almost scored with his first-touch but his shot struck the crossbar.

But the fourth goal came soon after when another clumsy foul in the area allowed Usher to the stroke home his second penalty and complete his hat-trick.

It was 5-0 two minutes later when substitute Ash Spurrell bundled home Peacock's low cross.

Uplyme pulled a goal back in the 68th minute with their best move of the match. Midfielder Pete Bladamer won the ball in the midfield and set free Fifer on the left-flank.

The promising teenager then rolled a perfect cross through the six-yard box to his player-manager Stuart Wooster who

Seven Bees in Dorset squad

SEVEN members of the Queen Bees of Bridport and Beaminster team have been selected for the Dorset Women Under 18 football squad following trials.

The Dorset FA are looking to re-establish this team with the possibility of entering a side in the South & West Counties U18 competition next season.

The seven, Gaby Gilchrist, Molly Hyde, Beth Letherby, Isabel Mullen, Sophie

Northover, Lucy Paul and Anna Roberts-Wray and joined by two Weymouth Ladies, Anne Reading and Rebecca Vallard, as well as Elinor Mason (Real Weymouth) and Katie Paul of Dorchester Ladies in the squad of 14.

Having made the Coaching Centre, they will meet for two hour sessions at the 3G facility of Dorchester Sports Centre on selected Monday evenings between now and the end of the season. Matches against Wiltshire, home and away have also been arranged.

The Centre will be coached by Dorset County FA's Development team; namely: Andrew Battison (Development Officer), Maddy Massey (Development Officer) and Jemma Tewkesbury (Administrator).

Further players may be added to the squad in due course.

Bob Buckler racing

Ugolin makes useful debut

THE long awaited debut of Ugolin De Beaumont finally took place last week.

After several abortive attempts, and although a sixth place finish in the 2m Connolly's Red Mills Bumper Challenge Standard Open NH Flat Race at Wincanton does not sound too impressive on paper, trainer Bob Buckler was delighted with his run.

"It has been difficult finding the right race for him and when we have the fixture has been cancelled or the ground waterlogged.

"The conditions over the past two months have also made it difficult to give him track experience at home which didn't help.

"It was a very good quality bumper with some very good horses in it, but he travelled well. However as they turned for home he was caught a bit one pace, but halfway down the straight he realised what he needed to do and stayed on well, passing several horses on the way.

"I'm absolutely delighted. He's a chaser in the making and coped well with the heavy ground, and will have learned a lot from the experience in his first run. He's an exciting horse for the future."

Despite being pulled up three fences out, Buckler was also pleased with the running of Redlynch Rock in the Conditional Jockeys Handicap Hurdle at Taunton.

The six-year-old who has excelled most in good ground found the atrocious conditions over 3m1f too much for him, and having been prominent for most of the way eventually gave way to the ground.

"He absolutely hated it. We decided to give him a run and see how he went, but he couldn't cope and in addition he ripped a front shoe off which wouldn't have helped him, but his jumping was sound.

"We will now wait for better ground before running him again."

Local swimmers shine at opening club Gala of year

SWIMMERS ranging from six to 16 years took part in Chard & District Swimming Club's first Club Gala of the year at Flamingo Pool in Axminster last week writes Hannah Pullinger.

Excellent swims secured a Bronze Speed badge for 9 and under swimmers Freddie Coles and Grace Lambert swimming under 20 seconds in the 25m free for the first time, and a Silver Speed Badge for Simon Davis (12) in the 50m freestyle, for swimming under 36 seconds for the first time.

There were also 43 Somerset County qualifying times achieved (regional and national qualifying times cannot officially be achieved at this level of competition).

Swimmers of the month were Henry Taswell (12) for achieving a new regional qualifying time in the 200m backstroke in December, and Xanthe Dyer (11) for achieving the most improvement points at galas in December.

Donovan hat trick lifts Beaminster to third

Beaminster 5 Blandford & Sturmin' 2nd 1

Channel Division One
BEAMINSTER moved into third place in Channel Division 1 by displacing their opponents with this comprehensive win.

Blandford & SN had beaten Beaminster 3-1 at home in mid November and with their blend of experience and youth, similar to the hosts were a good match.

However, it was in front of goal where Beaminster had the edge, and when Blandford did find their shooting boots they found Phoebe Stewart in good form in goal.

Beaminster made the best start they could with a goal inside 50 seconds. Hannah Dale's strong run down the right wing saw he feed Lucy Herbert who cut into the D before crossing to Danni Donovan whom had a simple conversion.

Whilst Beaminster had most of the play, the visitors were no mugs and had to be watched, particularly a slight, young midfield player who looks a good prospect for the future.

Herbert put Beaminster two up on ten minutes when she swept the ball home after a good move down the left.

She added a third on 19 minutes when Andrea Thomas' miscued shot found Donovan who showed good skills in beating two in the D before firing just inside the post.

Jenny Clarke then made a tremendous tackle to prevent the visitors pulling one back soon after.

The second half started as the first, with Beaminster scoring in the first half, this time Thomas made no mistake with a shot from the top of the D which appeared to surprise the visiting keeper.

Whether Beaminster relaxed at this point, but Blandford put them under a lot of pressure for the next few minutes and were rewarded with a goal from close in.

However they rallied and on 48 minutes Donovan completed her hat trick with a reverse stick shot from the top of the D past the outstretched foot of the keeper.

The game slowed from here as both sides tired and Beaminster conceded a penalty flick with 14 minutes to go in a goalmouth melee. But Blandford missed the opportunity; Stewart blocking the shot with her outstretched leg.

The win gives Beaminster 25 points from 14 games which should see them finish in the top four comfortably, but with no real chance of catching the top two.

BEAMINSTER: Stewart, S Davies, May, Clarke, Littleproud, Hosegood, Donovan, Thomas, Dale, Herbert, P Davies

Hawks machine rolls on

THE Two West Dorset sides continued their relentless push for promotion as they once again matched each other; easing past their opponents on Saturday to make it ten games unbeaten - nine of them victories.

ASHMOOR A O WEST DORSET HAWKS 1

HAWKS struggled to overcome second from bottom Ashmoor A by a single goal, but the point moved them level with second placed Yeovil & Sherborne A who had played a game more.

They have eight games left to play, and this Saturday face potentially their hardest and most important remaining fixture when they host leaders Sidmouth & Ottery B.

WEST DORSET A 4 ASHMOOR B 0

A YOUNG feisty Ashmoor side made West Dorset, who were boosted by the return of club captain Dan Wyatt returning after injury, fight for this victory.

The first half was close with both sides cancelling each other out, although the Hawks had most chances, and Ashmoor were thankful to their keeper for keeping them on level terms at the break thanks to a good save from John Kellis short corner strike.

Hawks changed the formation at halftime and it brought immediate success; Richard Miller diving to score on his reverse with a first time shot into the roof of the net from Julian May's 30 yard pinpoint pass.

Under pressure, Ashmoor lost procession on pushback to an interception from Kellis who beat three players before undercutting his shot like a missile past the goalies head.

A despondent Ashmoor fell apart and found it difficult to get out of their own half, and when they lost the ball in front of goal again, Kellis pounced to poach another.

The visitors tried to counter attack but to no avail and in the final minutes Simon Wakely made a great tackle before making himself space to blast home a shot into the back-board.

The victory sees West Dorset, like the first team, draw level on points with the second placed team ECV Hornets C who after defeat by WD last week could only draw with Isca E. Hawks: Everett, May, Smith, Wyatt, Wakely, Cox, B Maltby, G Maltby, Kellis, Henry, Leeson.

Dorset League round-up

Late penalty sees Chickens rule the roost

MERLEY Cobham Sports were knocked off top spot in a weekend that saw the top four teams play each other.

A 38th minute strike from WEYMOUTH RESERVES Lee Sharpe saw them slip to fourth and be replaced by the Terras, who had occupied that position before the start of play.

That was because PORTLAND UNITED and Hamworthy Recreation shared the points at Grove Corner leaving them as they started, in second and third place respectively.

After a goalless first-half, Tom Willis put Hamworthy in front on the hour, but Portland hit back to take a point with a goal from Ross Doige.

Mere Town moved into the top five with a 6-0 home victory over bottom club Poole Borough.

Jordan Collins grabbed a brace and there was one each for Tom Cowley, Ryan Hughes, Mariusz Kawaler and Matthew White for Mere who led 5-0 at the interval.

The game was marred by the sending off of a Borough player.

DORSET LEAGUE

ONCE again the Dorset Football League programme was decimated by the weather.

CHICKERELL UNITED moved into pole position in the SENIOR DIVISION following their 2-1 win over visitors PIDDLTRENTHIDE UNITED.

Nick Etherington and a last minute Dan Welch penalty gave the Chickens victory, with Neil Kellaway, also with a penalty conversion, scoring for the Piddletrenthide.

In Division One WEYMOUTH SPARTANS moved up into the top three with a 3-2 win against their visitors BRIDPORT 3RDS. The Bees led 2-1 at half-time with goals from Jamie McClements and Tom Fouracre but goals from Kieron Howes and a dubious penalty converted by Florinel Bujor, his second of the match, secured the points.

An Ashley White goal secured the points for fifth placed side KANGAROOS against their visitors Bere Regis.

POUNDBURY ROVERS and AFC Cobham shared the points and four goals with the Rovers goals coming from Jack Goldsack and Ben Thomas with Dan King and Mark Seal replying for Cobham.

PUDDLETOWN lost for the first time this season in DIVISION FOUR when they were beaten 2-0 by their visitors UNITED CLUB OF POUNDBURY, with goals from Sam Course and an OG.

Bowls

'Fleet sunk

Bridport Indoor Bowls
BRIDPORT faced Moonfleet for the second time this season and feared the worst as they were comprehensively beaten on all rinks in the first encounter.

However this is a different Bridport side now in the Wessex League, and new captain Chris Thorne has got a great spirit running through the squad, and despite playing against far bigger clubs are picking up good points.

Max Dare, Bill Payne, Paul Tibble and Brian Rumble picked up a superb two points at Weymouth, winning 19-17, while Chris Everest, Brian Walsh, Mel Griffiths and Thorne just missed out on another two points losing 15-16 at home.

Unfortunately Mike Parsons, Brian Galpin, Bob Taylor and Ken Enticott were beaten 21-27 and Phil Hedges, Dave Roberts, Brian Conisbee and Keith Gentry went down 5-31.

In the County Mixed League against Wellworthy, Barbara and Keith Jenkins, Sue Gentry and Peter Hunt secured two points, pipping their opponents 21-20.

Despite losing on all three rinks, Bridport enjoyed their annual trip to Sidmouth.

Gerry Moss, Barbara Jenkins, Beryl Stork and Brian Rumble were 13-10 up before going down 13-14, while Lyn and Mike Craddock, Robin Pither and Phil Hedges led 9-4 up early on before finally losing 14-22.

Penny Pither, Keith Jenkins, Max Dare and Mary Corfield lost on the last end 12-15.

Weymouth open with trip to champions Parley

WEYMOUTH, the only local side now left in Dorset Premier League Division One start the new season with the toughest match imaginable; a trip to champions Parley.

After being relieved following the withdrawal of Winton from last year's Premier League, the Seaside make the trip to Poole Park on May 3rd.

They then face a similarly testing challenge in their first home match the following week (May 10th) when they host Broadstone who finished fourth.

Dorchester begin life in Premier League Two with a difficult trip to Shroton, before hosting Blandford at The Rec.

Promoted Martinstown will travel to last year's champions Sherborne for their opening fixture, before entertaining Shroton at the picturesque Lower Ashton Farm.

The local derby with county town neighbours Dorchester takes place at The Rec on June 14th with the return on August 2nd.

The restructured Division Two should be interesting this year with five local teams involved, and there's a tasty clash on the opening day (May 3rd) when Beaminster entertain Cattistock.

Weymouth 2nd XI and Dorchester 2nd XI both start with home games against Ferndown Wayfarer 3rds and Portland RT respectively.

Bridport start life in Division Three against Christchurch 2nds before travelling to Kingston Lacy.

There's a clash of the Titans in Division Five with promoted Charlton Down who finished runner-up hosting last year's Division Six champions Chalke Valley. There was only seven points between the teams at the end which will make this an intriguing encounter.

Martinstown 2nd XI also have a tricky start when they entertain Broadstone 4ths who come down from Division Four.

Beaminster 2nds who finished rock bottom of the eight divisions last season face a tough start when they host Wimborne & Colehill 4th's in Division Six who drop down two leagues in the reshuffle. Symene who were relegated from Sunday's Division Three start with a home game against Broadstone 2nds (May 4th) before travelling to Portland Red Triangle 2nd's the following week.

Broadwindsor start their defence of the Reader Mid Wessex Division 1 League with a home game against last year's Division Two champions Bruton, before travelling to the other promoted side North Perrott.

Park named new Dorset captain

CHRIS Park has been appointed Dorset Cricket Club's new captain, succeeding Tom Hicks who stood down at the end of last season

Park is Dorset born and played for Kingston Lacey and Bournemouth before joining Northamptonshire in 2002, where he was awarded the Academy Players of the Season in his first year.

He was released in 2005 and has played for Dorset ever since, playing nearly 100 games in all competitions and scoring over 2,000 runs.

He was vice-captain to Hicks for four seasons between 2008-2011 and recently has returned to live in the county. He was the stand out candidate and was the unanimous choice of the committee. Park has asked all-rounder Jake Lintott to be his vice-captain, while Alan Willocks will remain as the 1st XI Coach, assisted by Julian Shackleton.

Hicks after seven very successful years as skipper where he led the side to the Western Divisional Championship and outright Minor Counties Champions in 2010, and a One Day Semi Final in 2012, will still make himself available to play and will be a valuable member of the squad next season.

Dorset will play Hampshire in a double-header T20 Blast on Thursday May 8th at Dean Park which will provide the visitors with valuable practice for all of their squad ahead of their domestic T20 campaign. Coupled with this is the fact that they are celebrating their 150th anniversary and Dean Park is where they won the County Championship for the second time back in 1973. Further details about the start times for the two matches and ticketing prices will be unveiled in due course.

In other news, the Minor Counties Cricket Association (MCCA)

have renamed their competitions to bring them in line with the Unicorns side that play in the First Class Domestic 50 over competition.

The Unicorns side is run by the MCCA and it seems a sensible idea to give the competitions fresh identity, they will now be named 'Unicorns Counties Championship' and 'Unicorns One Day Trophy'.

The Dorset 'A' side will now be known as the 'Dorset Leopards', the side is used as a vehicle to give young talented players and Dorset 1st squad members the opportunity to showcase their talents.

Players who perform well for this side make the selectors aware of who is knocking on the door for selection into the 1st XI.

The side will be managed and coached by Phil Calcott and Julian Shackleton. A captain for the side will be chosen during the winter training sessions.

INSIDE: Lyme Regis Pool league news

Further boost for Lyme

JUST one of the region's teams managed to get a much-needed run out on Saturday with Uplyme Reserves taking on Combe B in a Perry Street & District League Division Four clash.

The game itself was ruined by a fierce wind that gusted up the Slades Cross Ground slope.

The Swallows were against the elements in the first-half but looked to be in with a chance as they only trailed 2-0 with half-time approaching.

But a third goal just before the interval put Stuart Wooster's side firmly on the back foot at the break.

The hosts proceeded to strike twice more before Wooster himself converted from close range following swooping counter attack.

But from there any hopes of an unlikely fight back were curtailed when veteran referee Rex Selwood was taken ill and collapsed on the sidelines.

Mr Selwood was understood to have recovered later after being admitted to Musgrove Park Hospital in Taunton.

In Division Three Lyme Regis Bantams' scheduled visit by Hawkchurch United was cancelled as early as Wednesday evening with the Hawks unable to raise a side.

As it was the storm on Friday made the Woodroffe school pitch unplayable.

Meanwhile, Karl Diment's return to the Davey Fort ground where he was first team manager last season was put on ice with the Lyme Regis Reserves v South Petherton game washed out.

It was a similar story for both the Lyme Regis first team and Charmouth for their scheduled trips to Oxleaze (West & Middle Chinnock) and Horse-shoe Lane (Thorncombe).

The Seaside's title hopes were however given a further boost by news of rivals Perry Street being held to a 1-1 draw at lowly Combe Reserves.

All eyes will be on the heavens again this week none more so than at the Davey Fort where the Lyme Regis first team will be hoping for their first run-out for nine weeks with Misterton the visitors.

Ironically Lyme Reserves have no scheduled fixture! Meanwhile, The Bantams, in with a real chance of promotion from Division Three, head off to take on unpredictable Shepton Beauchamp Reserves.

Over at Venlake, Uplyme, fighting a desperate battle to stave off relegation from Division One turn their attention to the Arthur Gage cup and a first round tie against fellow strugglers Beaminster Reserves.

Uplyme Reserves are also in cup-tie action with a Kenny Hodges first round tie at Thorncombe Reserves.

Finally, Charmouth could break into the top three in the Division Two with victory over Ilminster Town Colts at Barrs Lane.

No chance
